IMPORTANCE ATTACHED TO DISCUSSIONS OF LEAGUE

M. Briand Will Join Delegates Of France

GERMAN OPINION

Government Assured Support In Reichstag

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 20.—As indicating the importance which the French Government attaches to the forthcoming discussions of the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva, it is reliably stated that M. Briand has consented to join the French delegation. It is understood that M. Herriot does not propose to attend the opening of the Assembly, preferring to arrive after the preliminaries have been concluded.

Up to the present no arrangements have been made for Mr. MacDonald to break his journey at Paris in order to see M. Herriot, and it is therefore supposed that the Premiers will travel to Switzerland independently.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Berlin, August 20.—The Premiers of the German States met today in order to hear the report of Chancellor Marx on the London Conference. They decided that the shortness of the time, and the impossibility of making themselves fully acquainted with all the details of the agreement come to, did not permit them to form any conclusion, and their Governments would reserve judgment until the time when the Federal Council should commence its deliberation on the laws necessary for carrying out the plan of the experts.

With the exception of the Bavarian Popular Party and the Economic Union, which are still deliberating on the London Agreement all political parties have approved the Agreement in principle, and are disposed to vote the three laws for making effective the Dawes plan. Chancellor Marx can therefore count on 270 votes, and as the national group is very much split up, there is hardly any doubt that he will be able to secure a two-thirds majority of the House when it meets next Friday.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, August 20.—M. Herriot will read tomorrow a report on the London Conference and Agreement to the two Chambers, after which a discussion will take place in the Chamber of Deputies.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 21.—In an interview with a representative of the Revue Hebdomadaire, M. Millerand, the former President of France, said that he regretted that the London Conference did not touch the very important question of security. He remarked that the Naval review at Spithead showed to Britain that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald put security above all other questions. France must not reduce the strength of her Army which, at present, was her only guarantee of security in Europe. Referring to the British Government's rejection of the guarantee pact, M. Millerand concluded that it was difficult to found any serious hopes in the League of Nations.

With regard to Russia, M. Millerand expressed the opinion

The Arms Menace

The attempt to kidnap Mr. Y. C. Bau of the Commercial Press, an honored member of the Shanghai Chinese community yesterday by armed ruffians, again brings prominently before the foreign and Chinese communities the menace of arms smuggling. This affair happened in Chapei on Paotung Road near the Commercial Press Works in a thickly settled section and serves to demonstrate the desperation of the criminal elements in this vicinity. It is useless for the foreign and Chinese communities to point their fingers at each other and attempt to shift the blame for happenings of this kind. It is true that foreigners have been prominently mentioned recently in the news in connection with arms smuggling, but for every foreign arms smuggler there must be a Chinese buyer—so the blame is equal. Hundreds of Chinese soldiers trained to the use of arms are constantly being discharged from provincial armies and drift to Shanghai. In the tea houses and movies they hear discussed the latest and most approved methods of cussedness and criminality. A coolie with a bent for adventure, uprooted from his home environment, with a pistol in his possession becomes a menace to the community. This menace is greater to the Chinese than to the foreigners because there are more Chinese and they are peculiarly susceptible to blackmail and intimidation. The problem is constantly becoming more serious and something must be done to meet it. Appeals to the Diplomatic Body and the Chinese Government at Peking on the subject of arms smuggling are of no avail in obtaining relief from the immediate situation. It would seem that this is something that Shanghai has got to solve for itself and in this connection a conference on the part of the leading chambers of commerce in co-operation with the police heads of the foreign and Chinese communities and the recent committee recommended by the Municipal Council might be able to accomplish something. The day for shifting the blame and delay is past. The problem is an immediate one. The ignorant coolie with a disordered brain and carrying a loaded pistol in his hand is a menace but the arms smuggler in the background is a greater one.

Orders Reward For Christian Soldiers For Relief Efforts

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 18.—President Tsao Kun has instructed the Military Council to arrange suitable rewards for Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang's men who have done excellent flood prevention work recently. The President has also instructed the Council to detach a number of selected men of the 13th and 19th divisions to assist General Feng's men.

Sun Promises Arms But Makes Treachery Charge

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hongkong, Aug. 21.—In connection with the recent importation to Canton by the Merchant Volunteer Corps of a large quantity of arms and ammunition, which were seized by the authorities, Dr. Sun Yat-sen has sent a letter to the Volunteers promising delivery in accordance with the regulations for the acquisition of arms by volunteers, thus settling the question.

At the same time Dr. Sun Yat-sen states that a plot has recently been discovered in which the Volunteers and others are concerned, the object of which was the overthrow of the present authorities and surrender to the North. He accuses Mr. Chan Lim-pak, the compradore of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, of being the ringleader. With the exception of the latter, the authorities, the letter declares, will overlook the past in the case of accomplices who are now repentant, but they are desirous of punishing those who still continue plotting.

Dr. Sun Yat-sen says that he is determined thoroughly to investigate the organisation of the Volunteer Corps and to eliminate traitors, in order to enable the Volunteers and the authorities to cooperate for the welfare of Kwantung.

Fukien And Nanking Fleets Steaming Shanghaiward For Attack, Local Navy Hears

Revolt Planned On Cruiser Hai Chou Collapses; Shanghai Squadron For Peace; So Do Generals Lu, Chi And Ho

It was authoritatively learned here yesterday that the Fukien Navy, headed by the Cruiser Hai Yung, consisting of five or six war vessels, are steaming towards Woosung in connection with the plan of the Chihli party to conduct military operations against Chekiang and Shanghai.

Under order of Admiral Tu Shih-kwei, Chief of the Admiralty, Admiral Yang Shu-chwang, it is said, commander of the Fukien squadron, left Foochow waters on Wednesday. Other vessels include the Yin Jui, Yung Chien, Chu Tung and Chu Kwan, it is reported.

From Nanking, it is also learned that a fleet is being despatched from the Kiangsu capital to cooperate with the Fukien naval unit in the operation. The ships are Chu Tai, Chu Yu, Kiang Li and Chu Chien. The aim is said to be focussed on the Woosung Forts and the Lunghua Arsenal.

An attempt to alienate the loyalty of the officers of the Cruiser Hai chou of the Shanghai Navy was nipped in the bud yesterday when a number of officers, including the torpedo chief and telegraphic clerk were arrested by order of Admiral Lin Kien-chang. The plot, said to be instigated by the Nanking naval authorities, was uncovered by Commander Hsu Chien-ting. The disappearance of a gunner named Tsiang Yuan-tsing led to the discovery of the proposed mutiny.

Upon receipt of the news of the coming of the Fukien and Nanking navies, the Shanghai Squadron yesterday issued a circular telegram to all naval interests, urging them to refrain from hostilities against Chekiang, which it said, was the only province in China which had not suffered the atrocities of war since the establishment of the Republic. The possibility of diplomatic interference was another reason set forth why no clashes should be staged here.

TWO BANKS FAIL

With rumors of impending warfare between Kiangsu and Chekiang gaining daily in number and in the degree of their positiveness, Chinese financial circles in Shanghai are said to be undergoing a period of extreme stringency.

Suspension of two native banks has already been announced, and it is said that others are experiencing great difficulties because of the sharp drop in government bonds due to the rumors of warfare. One native bank, which suspended Wednesday, was said to have liabilities of approximately $3,000,000, although this figure is thought to be exaggerated. The institution, which was operated by Ningpo men, had been loaning to clients on government bonds. When the bonds started their slump with a five-point drop, the bank called for extra margin from their clients. Unable to obtain this, they were forced to attempt a sale of the bonds, but, because of the fact that the Stock Exchange was closed, were unable to realise on them, and were consequently forced to suspend. According to authentic sources, however, the

ARMED ROBBERS HOLD UP SHOP ON POINT ROAD

Gang Of Seven Escapes With Cash In Raid On General Store

Seven men, six of them armed with pistols and the seventh with a knife, staged a raid on a general store at 2999 Point Road Wednesday night and escaped with a considerable sum in cash, according to a report filed with the police.

Five of the men entered the shop and vaulted the counter, while their two companions stood on guard outside. The inmates of the shop were quickly intimidated by the display of arms, and in response to the demands of the bandits yielded up the cash box. It contained $90 in notes, thirty Mexican dollars, 450 twenty-cent pieces, and 50.000 coppers.

Dividing their heavy burden, the robbers ran out of the shop and made good their escape.

RIVER BANDITS TAKE 'SQUEEZE' ON WHANGPOO

Police Investigate Reports Of Robberies In Mid-River

The police are investigating what appears to be the first authentic case of piracy in these waters. Information has just been received by the water police that several members of the gang of river bandits known as "The thirty-six Kien Tang" (Heavenly Ghost) set upon three Chinese who were passengers on the Steamer "Woosung" from Hankow on August 18th and, seizing their luggage compelled them to enter a sampan which the bandits had ready. In order to retrieve their baggage the Chinese, calling themselves K. Kwok, T. F. Li and Wong Yuen Chung, accompanied the bandits to the middle of the river where they were forced to hand over $10 for the trip. After receiving the money the pirates jumped into another small boat just close to the French bund landing.

According to the Chinese victims, this practice of squeezing money from passengers arriving on up-river boats at Pootung wharves and desiring to cross the river to the Shanghai side, is a common one, but up to now, it is believed, no official complaint has been made to the authorities.

Several suspicious characters are being investigated by the river police who are following up the case.

The engagement of the Earl of Galloway and Miss Philippa Wendell, daughter of the late Jacob Wendell, of New York, and sister of the Countess of Carnarvon, has been announced in London. Frank Hussey, a 17-year-old New York schoolboy, led the American relay teams to victory in the 400-metre and 1,600-metre races in the Olympic games in Paris. Said Zogloul Pasha, Premier of Egypt, was wounded in the arm by a shot fired by a student in Cairo. R. de Goroc, of New York, chief caterer to the Prince of Wales on his American visit, has revealed that on his last American tour the Prince kept six valets busy dressing him up.

BENGAL SEEKS APOLOGY FROM LORD LYTTON

Demand For Removal Of Governor Is Made By Leaders In India

(Reuter's Service)

Calcutta, Aug. 20.—To other difficulties of the situation in Bengal there is now added a growing campaign in favor of the removal of the Governor for a passage in a speech made at Dacca on August 6 defending the police against charges of corruption.

The Nationalist Press construed Lord Lytton's remark as an insult to Indian women.

The campaign against the Governor, fostered by the Nationalist leaders, reached its height tonight. Crowds estimated at 20,000 tried to attend meetings of protest in the Town Hall which were addressed by Mr. C. R. Das, Mr. Motilal Nehru and Mrs. Naidu.

Five overflow meetings were held outside the Town Hall, all of which were characterised by impassioned speeches, urging a social boycott and demanding that Lord Lytton apologise on his knees; or otherwise he must go.

Mr. Yu Ya-ching Elected To Head Chinese Chamber

The Chinese General Chamber of Commerce held its bi-annual election of officers yesterday afternoon when thirty-five members of the board of directors, including the proxies, met in the Chamber headquarters to cast their votes.

Mr. Yu Ya-ching was elected president when a vote of 19 out of 35 was cast for him. Mr. C. P. Fong was re-elected a vice-president by 33 votes.

The new officers will begin their official duties on September 1 and will remain in office for two years.

The general membership of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce is now well over 400.

POLICE REWARD GIVEN CHINESE IN ARMS CASES

Two Who Caused Arrests Of Smugglers Receive Cash Gratuities

Two Chinese, one a ricsha coolie and the other a shop assistant, who were influential in bringing about the arrest of arms smugglers were rewarded by the Council on Wednesday when they were called to Police headquarters and in the presence of officials of the C. I. D., were given cash gratuities of $25 and $50.

The man who was given $25, a ricsha coolie named Woo Zang-sung, noticed a Chinese entering two Japanese shops at Yangtsze-poo Road on August 3. He suspected that the Chinese was obtaining arms or contraband of some sort, and trailed him to Broadway and Chaufoong Roads, where he asked a Chinese police constable to search the man. On being searched, the suspect was found to be in possession of an automatic pistol and 185 rounds of ammunition.

The shop assistant was responsible for the arrest of a Japanese sailor who was in possession of three pistols and 100 rounds of ammunition. He noticed the Japanese hurriedly calling a ricsha at Broadway and Hwakee Roads, and noticed also that his clothing appeared to be bulky. Telling the ricsha coolie not to take the Japanese as a passenger, the shop assistant trailed the Japanese as he walked away, and, when they came within call of a Chinese police constable, tackled the man and held him until the police arrived.

AGED PUBLISHER LEAPS FROM SPEEDING AUTO AFTER SHOT THRU ARM

Chapei Constable Mortally Wounded By Outlaws' Bullet; Kidnapper Takes Own Life When Driven To Tight Corner; Chauffeur Is Arrested.

A Chapei Constable and one of two auto bandits are dead as a result of an attempt made early yesterday morning to kidnap Mr. Y. C. Bau, the 60-year-old managing director of the Commercial Press, and hold him for ransom. The other bandit escaped. Mr. Bau was shot in the left arm and is resting comfortably at the Red Cross Hospital where the attending physicians, Drs. W. S. New and William New have ordered a complete rest. No friends were allowed to see him yesterday, only close relatives were permitted inside his room.

An X-Ray picture taken by Dr. W. S. New immediately upon his arrival at the hospital showed that the bullet had entered the arm through the triceps and came out of the biceps, piercing through the muscles without injuring any of the arteries or the bone. Both doctors announced that there was no cause for alarm.

The story of the daring outrage is one which "movie" magnates would have paid good money for its sensation, for the pluckiness of the aged victim and the excitement of the chase conducted by the Chapei police after the fleeing bandits.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Bau was leaving his private home on Paotung Road for his office on Paoshan Road. As this was only a short distance, he walked as usual. He was seen off at the gate by his sister, who happened to be visiting. At a distance of only a few steps from his gate, two bandits accosted him and asked him to hand over 2,000 dollars as a "loan". Mr. Bau then remembered that a letter was recently addressed to him from anonymous sources, demanding the payment of this sum.

WANTED $3,000

Mr. Bau told the bandits that it was impossible for him to hand over this large sum as he had no available funds. Whereupon the bandits pulled out their guns and ordered him to march into a waiting motor. When he resisted they grabbed hold of him by the arms and forced him into the car. Mr. Bau struggled with the bandits, clinging to one of the weapons and sticking his feet outside on the running board so that the door could not be closed. Mr. Bau succeeded in getting hold of one of the guns and throwing it away.

The car was apparently being driven towards the Settlement. Rounding a fenced corner of Paotung and Tien Tung An Road, a little distance from his home, Mr. Bau attempted to attract the attention of the public by calling out "Chur Min Chur Min!" (Save my Life!) One of the bandits, a disfigured person of about 30 summers pulled the triggar of the other gun while his accomplice covered up the victim's mouth to prevent him from yelling. Mr. Bau heard the report but did not realise that the bullet had taken effect as he felt no pain.

BAU WAS SHOT

YOSHIZAWA IS MEDIATOR IN RUSS DISPUTE

Yoshizawa Attempts To Settle Differences Over U. S. Covering Note

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 21.—According to the published reports the Rosta interview yesterday was with a member of M. Karakhan's staff and not with M. Karakhan himself.

It is understood that Mr. Yoshizawa yesterday sent his secretary to urge M. Karakhan to withdraw his note relating to the American communication of August 18. M. Karakhan declined to do so but he subsequently visited Mr. Yoshizawa and a lengthy and heated discussion resulted in an arrangement by which, it is hoped, M. Karakhan will forward an amended note which will then be communicated to the other protocol Powers. Meanwhile M. Karakhan's note of August 19 remains in Mr. Yoshizawa's hands.

With the return of Sir Ronald Macleay, the British Minister, to Peking, Mr. Yoshizawa will cease to be the Senior Protocol Minister in Peking.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, August 20.—Previous to the holding of the Russo-Japanese parley today, Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, called on the American Charge d'Affairs at 5 p.m. and made arrangements with the latter to devise counter-measures regarding M. Karakhan's refusal to accept the note from the American Minister.

At the beginning of the Russo-Japanese Parley, which was opened at 5 o'clock this afternoon, at the Japanese Legation, reference was made to the case in which M. Karakhan had returned the note from Dr. Schurman, American Minister. It is reported that the Japanese Minister, before the opening of the Russo-Japanese Parley, sent Mr. Shidehara, consul in rank, to M. Karakhan's Office to have an interview with the Soviet Envoy to whom the Japanese Consul conveyed the message from Mr. Yoshizawa, calling for M. Karakhan's re-consideration regarding his refusal to accept the note from the American Minister.

Later.—As a result of the interview today between Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, and M. Karakhan, Soviet Envoy, it is reported that an understanding has been effected over the case regarding the latter's return of the note from the American Minister.

It is expected that the case will be amicably settled tomorrow morning. The Russo-Japanese Parley, which made no progress today on account of the case referred to above, is expected to take place tomorrow afternoon immediately after the settlement of the above case.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, August 21.—Now that an understanding was effected last night between Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, and M. Karakhan, Soviet Envoy, over the point concerning the former in connection with the case of M. Karakhan's sending back of the American Minister's Note forwarded to him by the Japanese Minister, it is expected that the other points mentioned in M. Karakhan's Note will be referred to the British Minister, who returned here from Peitaiho yesterday and who has taken up the function of the Doyen of the Diplomatic Body. It is understood that Mr. Yoshizawa will call on the British Minister this evening.

LEO E. OZORIO

Mr. Leo E. Ozorio, twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Ozorio and popular as a jockey at the Kiangwan Race Course, died yesterday morning in the Shanghai General Hospital following an attack of heart failure, probably induced by the heat.

Ozorio, despite his youth, had shown his prowess as a rider on many occasions, riding at Kiangwan for the Sheng stables. He was known to his many youthful friends as "Baby." He was employed in the firm of Bradley and Company.

Funeral services will be held today, the cortege leaving the hospital at 4:30 o'clock for the Church of the Sacred Heart, where Rev. Father Jacquinot will conduct services. Interment will take place at Bubbling Well Cemetery at 5:30 o'clock.

The Prince will visit President Coolidge at Washington, returning the same day to Long Island, where he will remain until September 13.

It is understood that the visit to Washington will be considered quasiofficial, the Prince coming in an official capacity to pay his respects to the President.

Lutheran Missions Seeking To Create Interest In Work

(Reuter's American Service)

Fargo, N.D., July 30.—Efforts to create a more extensive interest in the establishment of missions in China and Madagascar, and the subsequent intensive religious and moral training of 10,000,000 heathen, will constitute the main work and aim of the General Mission Conference of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, at its fall national convention here.

Fifteen internationally prominent missionaries and religious workers will speak. The convention is expected to launch a drive throughout the nation for more and better equipped Lutheran missions.

All meetings will be held under the auspices of the Foreign Mission board of which the Rev. Gullixson of Minot, North Dakota, is chairman.

The Lutherans, according to the Rev. J. D. Runsvold of Fargo, secretary of the Mission Board, expend $325,000 each year alone for its missions. One hundred and fifty missionaries are already in the field, he states, and are accomplishing exceptional results.

Russian Arrested Here On Suspicion Of Part In Murder

A Russian whose name appears as "So-peh-duh-li-kuh" in Chinese characters (probably Spedulikov) was arrested here Wednesday at a house on East Hanbury Road by Chief Detective Inspector Cruickshank and Detective Sergeant Repas, at the request of the Chinese authorities, on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder of a man named Oo Lih Neh-vi—(possibly Ulianov) at Sing Ma Ma Ka, Nantao District, in the Eastern Provinces, on December 13, 1922.

The arrested man was brought up in the Mixed Court yesterday before Mr. Jacobs, American Assessor, and Magistrate Loh. He stated he had been in Shanghai about a year, and was engaged in commercial deals here. He was quite ignorant of why he had been arrested.

On December 13, 1922, the date of the murder, he was in Harbin at the home of some friends. He knew of the murder, the victim being his friend. He had some papers given him by the Manchurian police, and had been told by another man that the murdered man was shot by other members of a gang of which he was one, the trouble being presumably over $24,000 which they could not divide satisfactorily among themselves.

The arrestant stated that he was willing to go back to Harbin though he had been deported from there. The murder he knew of was of a man named Woolfovitch. He was unaware of any murder of a Russian policeman, though he had heard of such things happening in Harbin.

The accused, upon request, wrote all the names of his friends on a slip of paper, which was given to the Assessor.

C. D. I. Cruickshank brought it to the attention of the Court that the accused was expelled from Harbin, and suggested that his presence in Shanghai was not desirable here either.

Notes were made by Magistrate Loh, who will write the Chinese authorities on the matter. The Court released the accused on his personal bond not to leave Shanghai until a report is received from the Manchurian authorities.

Street Unions Join In Boycott Demand

Demand for severance of economic relations with Japan and a boycott on all Japanese goods has been voiced by the streets unions of Shantung Road and Avenue Edward VII in a series of joint telegrams sent to newspapers and public bodies as a result of a meeting held Wednesday. The boycott is called for in retaliation for the action of the Japanese government in imposing the luxury tax. Similar action was taken earlier in the week by the Wuchow Silk Merchants Guild.

In their telegrams, the streets unions point out that imposition of the luxury tax will have an adverse effect on dealers in Chinese goods. They further assert that Japan has granted postponement of the enforcement of the tax for three months to every nation except China.

Indian Charged With Slashing Chinese Woman

A Sikh watchman appeared in the British Police Court yesterday morning charged with slashing a young Chinese girl, cutting off part of her ear and otherwise injuring her. The accused man, Mahin Singh, who is employed at one of the Ewo cotton mills, was arrested Wednesday morning. A Chinese constable at Peking and Thibet Roads observed a young girl going along in a rickshaw, the Indian walking behind holding on to the ricksha. The girl was bleeding, and her clothes were spattered with blood, as were also the Indian's.

At the Police Station—the Sikh was charged and the girl sent off to the Shantung Road Hospital. Dr. Agnes E. Towers treated the girl there, and testified in Court yesterday that her examination showed the pinna of the right ear had been slashed and most of it cut away, though a small part of the lobe was left hanging. The wound did not endanger the life of the victim, but would leave a permanent deformity. The doctor also found two abrasions, one on the right forearm which was apparently caused by a bite, and one on a finger, caused either by a bite or scratch.

A short Chinese razor was taken from the defendant at the time of his arrest. This was produced in Court yesterday, and Dr. Towers said it might have caused the wound, which could have resulted only from some sharp instrument.

In Court yesterday, before Magistrate G. W. King, the case was outlined and evidence given of arrest, also the physician's testimony taken, as above. Mr. Maitland, appearing for the prosecution, asked for an adjournment until this morning, which was granted by the Court. The Indian asked for bail, but Magistrate King said decisively that he was not inclined to grant bail in an offense of this kind. The Indian could always get a lawyer, the Court continued, even if confined in jail.

The complainant, Tsang Wang-sze, was not put on the stand. She is said to have been the sweetheart of the defendant.

FRENCH SAILORS ARE WOUNDED IN DRUNKEN BRAWL

Three Taken Into Custody For Fighting; Two Are Stabbed

Two French marines, who had come into port Wednesday aboard the Messageries Maritime s.s. Paul Lecat, were stabbed in a fracas in an alleyway off Dong Kao Loong near Tsepoo Road Wednesday night. Their injuries were not serious, and after treatment at the General Hospital, they, and a third French Marine who was taken into custody with them, were turned over to the French police.

A report that a group of French sailors were fighting was made to the West Hongkew Police at 10:45 o'clock. On arrival at the scene of the conflict, the police found three marines lying in the alleyway in a drunken stupor. Two of them had stab wounds about the arms and head.

Inquiry revealed that the men had been fighting among themselves. All three are held on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Up-River Ships Will Come Here To Make Repairs

(Independent News Service)

Ichang, Aug. 16.—The N.K.K. steamer Yunyang Maru met with an accident on August 5, about thirty-six miles above Wanhsien. She struck a reef and was compelled to tie up at Ichang for temporary repairs. On completion of these repairs the Yungyang will proceed to Shanghai to be overhauled.

Mr. Charles R. Cox, of Messrs. L. C. Gillespie and Sons, has loaned his deep water diving apparatus and diving suit to the N.K.K. agent in order to assist in making the necessary repairs upriver.

The s.s. Fuh Wo, belonging to Jardine, Matheson and Co., was delayed on her last voyage about seventy-five miles below Chungking. Something went wrong with her engines and the Kingwo has been dispatched from Chungking to take off her cargo.

Chinese soldiers recently seized the s.s. Mussolini, of the Pariani Steamship Company, and had the ship carrying troops and munitions of war for a little time. The vessel was on the Chungking-Suifu run, and was commandeered at Hokiang, about one hundred miles above Chungking. She has been recovered and is now in Ichang, from where the owners expect to send her to Shanghai for repairs in the near future.

Gonzalo And Garcia Go Scheduled Twelve Rounds To A Draw In Main Event

Two Knockouts In The Preliminaries; Frisco Peralto Hands Out K. O. To Kid Willie While New Comer Bagtas Takes Count In One Round

The two fast boys, Garcia certainly put on a fast battle last night when they went the full twelve rounds to a draw. Garcia's elusiveness kept him out of trouble in almost every round although Gonzalo put in many heavy wallops which told on the aggressor. Garcia forced the fight right from the beginning and won several of the opening stanzas and for every one punch he took he gave two on nearly every occasion.

The first round opened with both fighters sparring for an opening but this continued throughout the following round also with a majority of the points in favor of Garcia.

However in the third stanza of the fight Garcia continued the aggressiveness and added this round to his credit also but Gonzalo started out in the fourth when he used his uppercut to an advantage. He kept up his attack on Garcia through the following rounds when he led a series of punches to his opponents ribs and directly under the heart.

Garcia danced away from Gonzalo on many occasions and away from his opponents drive to his ribs which was beginning to tell on him but in the meantime he landed blow after blow to his jaw. The sixth round was one of the best of the twelve for both boys came from their corners and had a regular toe to toe set to. Garcia kept up his aggressiveness in the whole of the fight but a good many of his blows only glanced his opponent while Gonzalo hit squarely but few times they were straight and well placed in spite of the fact that Garci glove stopped a great memy of them In the ninth round Gonzalo opened up with a series of uppercuts and slammed his opponent to the ropes with heavy wallops which drew blood from Garcia nose. After taking this in the first few seconds of the round Garcia turned the tables and for the rest of the round gave Gonzalo a good drumming.

The most exciting round was he eleventh when both fighters met in the middle of the ring and went after each other. Both of hem taking all and giving all they had. They were both striving for a knockout but at the end of the set time it was declared a draw.

One new comer from Manila by the name of Rush Bagtas who met the fast Benny Forral in the semi final lasted but about half of the first round. Bagtas's only chance was his rush in the opening of the fifth when he charged his opponent like a bull but he managed to get the worst of it for Forral was altogether too quick for him. Bagtas is only able to use his left to effect for it seems as though he was born with a withered right arm which is about a third the size of his other limb.

In the second preliminary Kid Willie had is man beaten up until the fourth round of the schedule six round affair. But in the fourth this Frisco Peralto floored his tall and rangy opponent and continued his attack in the following round when Willie kissed the canvas again but in the last round he went down for good and didn't come to his right sense until ten minutes later.

RESULTS AT A GLANCE

Garcia 124½ pds. and Gonzalo 126 pds. fought twelve rounds to a draw. Referee: Matty Smith; Judges: Himrod and Rodgers.

Benny Forral knocked out Rush Bagtas in the first round. Both boys weighed in at 117 pds. Referee: Matty Smith.

Frisco Peralto weight 102 pds. knocked out Kid Willie in sixth round. Percival Refereed.

Xavier gained decision over Kid Freddie in four rounds. Xavier, 88 pds. and Freddie 102 pds.

SUNDAY BASEBALL

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Since some of the most important baseball games held in Shanghai are played on Sunday it is natural that a player, who does not play Sunday ball, should feel that he is contributing less than his best service to his team. A conflict of loyalties makes his position a difficult one. During the past week, due to a downright desire to do all that I could to help the Shanghai team win it's series with Keio University, and because of the earnest urgings of my fellow players, I have attempted, with an open mind, to re-think the problem, and to decide anew whether or not I should take the field on Sunday. At a friend's request I take this occasion to make a public statement of my reasons for determining not to do so.

Sunday observance by a Christian should not, of course, be mere fetishism. Christ, when he was being criticised by the self-righteous people of his day for observing Sunday in a manner which they tagged as irreligious, remarked "The Sabbath is made for man, not man for the Sabbath". Putting aside tradition and authority he seemed to confront every man with the problem of deciding for himself how best to use the day.

Certainly there are circumstances, I believe, under which a Christian might feel entirely justified in taking part in Sunday sport. I have witnessed industrial communities where I felt that Sunday afternoon baseball meant more to the ladies, minds, and spirits of the workers than anything else could have done. I agree, also, with the team-mate who, last Saturday night argued that many of the Shanghai people who would attend the game on the next afternoon would be better off there than in any other place to which they would be likely to go.

But, it is my conviction that for those of the new generation who are going to attempt solving some of the perplexing problems of present society there must be a more effective use of Sunday than as a play time. Out of my experience in life has come the positive conviction that not material things, but spiritual things, rather, are of the supremest significance. I recognise, of course, that many are able to close their eyes to this truth, and that they will not concur with me in feeling that human beings need to set aside a time when, by an effort of the will, they hoist themselves out of the accustomed ruts, and do some serious thinking on the things which are essential. But the God that I have slowly grown to know, since He lifted me from out the weak and unhappy existence that I was leading a number of years ago, somehow causes me to sense the unreasonableness of attempting to muddle through life without trying to understand more of it than I stumble upon in my office, or on the street, or in the daily routine.

One day demands of a true Christian the same quality of living as another. The case that I seek to make for a special use of Sunday is not that man should be better on that day, but rather that he needs to mark off one adequate period a week which he will employ in the manner which will make him of most value to society. Our present schedule of living makes Sunday the most convenient and suitable span of time for such special use. I, personally, am signally indebted to many of the Sundays which I have spent in fellowship with my father, or in reading, thinking, or worship. If I am ever able to make any worthwhile contribution to others it will be at least partly due to the fact that I have looked upon Sunday as an opportunity for character development, a day to be utilised for toning up my spiritual life.

Thinking men are no longer slaves to tradition or external authority. That which is outworn and outlived is being cast aside. This is fortunately true in religion as well as in other phases of life. The Sunday that was endured by some of the older generation—a blue, cheerless, painfully-pious, unnatural occasion—is passing out along with other religious unrealities. But the need for those, who refuse to live an aimless, useless existence to regard Sunday as an opportunity to put themselves in the presence of the best that they can discover, is as vital a need as ever. I choose not to play ball on Sunday because I feel that it is less than the best use of the day for me, and because, if I had any influence with those who are young and who are still forming their characters and ideals, I would throw it into the balance on the side of using Sunday in a manner which would give them a truer understanding of the things in life which really count.

Some will not care for this statement. Of them I ask only an equal degree of tolerance towards my convictions which I display towards theirs.

Sincerely yours.
HARRY KINGMAN.

Dispute Over Arms Shipment Is Being Settled Locally

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 18.—Telegrams from Canton report that the leaders of various labor bodies there have begun the organisation of a Laborers' Volunteer Corps and are trying to get hold of part of the arms and ammunition brought by the Norwegian steamer Hav, which was seized by the Canton authorities. This movement seems to have been given a fillip by the Shameen strike and has also been helped, it is said, by growing feeling against the merchants over the arms question.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 18.—Among the matters which came before the Diplomatic Body when it met this morning under the presidency of the Japanese Minister (Mr. Yoshizawa) was the protest forwarded by the Merchant Volunteer Corps in Canton against the action of the local authorities there in forcibly detaining the steamer Hav, which was carrying arms and ammunition imported by the Corps. As the matter was reported to be in course of settlement locally the Diplomatic Body decided not to take any action in regard to it.

Palais De Danse To Feature Song, 'My Carlton Girl'

Shanghai dance-lovers will have a first opportunity to hear and dance to "My Carlton Girl," a real Shanghai composition by a Shanghai musician, when the number, which has been published for the Carlton, Ltd., by the Oriental press, is given its premiere at the Palais de Danse tonight.

"My Carlton Girl" is a fox-trot song, with music by M. Bakaleinikoff, a member of the Shanghai Municipal Band, and words by Joe Meredith, jazz drummer at the Palais de Danse. In its presentation at the Palais de Danse tonight, it will be sung by Meredith, and later will be the dance tune for a special chorus number.

The chorus of the song is as follows:

"Little Carlton Girl, you know that I'm in love with you;
You're the champ of all the vamps; we all know that is true;
Making wild men out of tame men
that's your business, too.
You've got eyes that hypnotise and show that you are wise;
Every old man, every taipan, they can't keep away;
Through their glass they see the class of all these chickens gay;
When I wine you and I dine you
all my brain's awhirl
You're the queen of all my dreams
My little Carlton Girl."

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Preparatory to today's ratification debate, the Government introduced in the Reichstag a bill assenting to the London protocol, authorising the Minister of Finance to float a loan for 800,000,000 gold marks, and empowering the Government to surrender State Railway bonds totalling eleven milliard marks, and also bonds amounting to five milliard marks secured on industrial taxation.

Method Of Entry Is Simplified

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 18.—A fresh telegram received by the American Legation from the State Department further simplifies the position in regard to the admission of Chinese students into the United States. The message states:

"All Consular Officers in China, including Hongkong, may issue to bona fide Chinese students proceeding to recognized institutions of learning a non-immigrant visa for a temporary visit. Consular Officers should inform the Department by telegraph the name of the student and the college to which he is proceeding. On their arrival in the United States their status as students will be established in accordance with the Immigration Act of 1924, Section 4E."

2 Dead As Auto Bandits Attempt Bau's Capture

the Chinese Isolation Hospital, Mr. Bau felt that something was oozing out his left arm and noticed his white gown was red with dripping blood. A thought flashed through his mind. He asked for permission to take off his bloody garment to avoid public attention. The bandits approved. As he stood up in the car to disrobe, he leaped out of the speeding machine and rolled into the creek on the wayside. His head was above water. The bandits again fired at him but missed. One of them got out of the car and attempted to seize him from the creek, but he ran away as pedestrians and two constables gave chase to the bandit auto.

Police whistles were blown. On account of the road conditions, the car was unable to make much headway along Tsingtao Road in the getaway. The remaining bandit then abandoned the car near the Pa Sze Chia Bridge and fled into the fields, firing as he fled. The constables commandeered the auto and ordered the chauffeur to give chase to the fleeing outlaws. One of the bandits' bullets hit a Constable named Yen Yu-shan, 25, a native of Tientsin through the heart. Death was instantaneous.

Meanwhile, the car was dangerously near the brigand. Realising that there was no further chance to escape, he ended his own life by riddling his heart. The other bandit made good his escape.

From the creek, Mr. Bau was helped out by sympathetic onlookers. In spite of the excitement and the chill he suffered under water, he declined assistance and walked homeward. On his way, he was met by a book-binder of his press, who conveyed him home in his private riscka. Dr. W. S. New was sent for. After the necessary first aid work and a rubbing down, Mr. Bau was conveyed to the Red Cross Hospital shortly after 10 o'clock. A hurried examination by X-Rays indicated that the condition was not serious. Besides the bullet wound, the right hip and chest were bruised. Dr. New believes that Mr. Bau would be out of hospital within two weeks.

PLEADS INNOCENCE

At the fifth Police Station in Chapei, the chauffeur gave his name as Chao Kuo-sze, 27 years old, a native of Yangchow, residing at 23-25 Chengtu Road. He was employed at the Fu Hsing Garage on Honan Road. According to his story the two bandits came early in the morning and asked for a car. He had been employed by the garage but for few days and did not know the motive of the customers when the car was ordered. The car is now being detained by the police.

The police of the International Settlement is now watching developments in the case and is on the lookout for the wanted bandit, who is dis-figured and wears a long gown, according to the Chapei police.

General Ho Feng-lin, the Military Governor of Shanghai and Colonel Lu Yung-chien gave $100 each yesterday to the family of the deceased. General Ho further rewarded the other constable who conducted the chase with $100. The deceased policeman is survived by his mother and wife.

AT TEETHING TIME
Your Baby Needs The Help
BABY'S OWN TABLETS GIVE

It is pitiful the sufferings so many children endure when their teeth are coming through. Now with Baby's Own Tablets ready at hand any parent is able to speedily alleviate these teething pains and thus bring peace and comfort to the tortured little one. Read this mother's evidence:—

"My baby was very ill when cutting his teeth and greatly troubled with tooth-rash, inflamed mouth and nervousness", writes Mrs. W. Pelham, of McCreary, Manitoba. "He was unable to take food for two days owing to ulcerated mouth, but after giving him Baby's Own Tablets the sore mouth soon healed and his health improved in every way."

Many other mothers tell of similar experiences. Baby's Own Tablets also have a remarkable record as a remedy for such common ailments of infants and young children as simple fever, indigestion, constipation, colic, vomiting, diarrhoea, croup, colds and worms. They are guaranteed harmless, being absolutely free from opiates, narcotics or other injurious drugs. Of chemists, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

Appeals Granted In Three Cases In British Court

In the British Supreme Court yesterday morning, before Judge Sir Skinner Turner, the case of Messrs. R. B. Moorhead and S. J. Halse, plaintiffs, against the Union Cold Storage Co., Ltd., and the Shanghai Ice and Cold Co., Ltd., in which the Court on August 7 made the important decision that a non-resident owner of land here could be served with a writ in Shanghai, came up again. The defendants yesterday moved an appeal against the order of the Court of August 7 that the summons taken out by them (the Union Cold Storage Co., Ltd.,) dated July 25, 1924, be dismissed with costs. They further asked that all proceedings in this action as against the said defendants be stayed pending the hearing of this appeal.

Mr. Wright, of Messrs. Hansons, counsel for the defendants, presented the motion. The Court granted the appeal, and adjourned the case sine die.

An appeal was also brought up by the defendant in the recent case of A. R. and J. Rosenfeld versus Maurice David. Mr. Harris, of Messrs. White-Cooper, Master and Harris, appeared for Mr. David, and moved for an order that the defendant have leave to appeal against the judgment of the Court of July 31 so far as same related to the liability of the defendant in respect to losses sustained on contracts for cotton futures. It is the portion of the judgment referring to the actual amount that is appealed against. Leave to appeal was granted by the Court.

A third appeal which came before the Court was the complex case in which judgment was given for Mr. R. Fermus, plaintiff, against the Siberian Agricultural Corporation, there being two other claimants, Mr. J. A. Malyguin and a Col. Ushakoff, the sum involved being some $28,000. The appeal was presented by Mr. Harris, counsel for Mr. Malyguin and asks for an order that execution of the judgment rendered in favor of Mr. Fermus July 28 be stayed until the hearing of an appeal to the Full Court.

The judgment that was given for the plaintiff on the date mentioned provided for the money not to be paid out until a further statement was received from the liquidator. The Court yesterday, considering the motion, made a special order for stay of payment. The appeal is to be heard at a sitting of the Full Court October 7.

DAWES AND BRYAN TAKE LIMELIGHT IN U.S. CAMPAIGN

Both Parties Fear Influence Of La Follette As Nominee

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Washington, Aug. 21.—Democratic and Republican leaders, fearing that there will be a deadlock in the coming presidential election both at the polls and in the event that the election is thrown into the House of Representatives, are laying special stress on the vice-presidential candidates, assuming that there exists a possibility that they will serve in the White House.

Leaders of both of the parties admit that the campaign being waged by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, progressive presidential nominee, is assuming dangerous proportions and that whatever attack the conservative parties make will redound to his credit.

The Republican campaign headquarters is instructing its speakers to "put the loud pedal" on the work of General Charles G. Dawes as chairman of the allied experts committee in evolving the plan for settlement of Europe's difficulties, while the Democratic chieftains are instructing their workers to go heavy on the ideas advanced by Governor Charles W. Bryan, Democratic vice-presidential nominee.

General Dawes is proceeding to Maine at once to open his campaign, while president Coolidge is still vacationing at Plymouth, Vt. It is said that President Coolidge will wait until early autumn before attempting any speeches.

TELEGRAMS CONGESTED

All commercial messages were rejected by the Shanghai Telegraph Administration, beginning from 10 o'clock yesterday on account of the congestion of official telegrams. The wires from Shanghai to Peking, Nanking and other important cities were kept hot with urgent messages, appealing for peace between Chekiang and the Chihli provinces. An extra crew of operators were called in the evening and the situation was somewhat relieved after 7 o'clock.

The threat of war is also said to have had an indirect influence in the sudden jump in the tael rate yesterday. On Wednesday Mexican dollars were quoted at Tls. .7185. Yesterday, the opening rate was .74, and sales were consummated during the day at .745.

Reports of war-like preparations are flooding the Chinese newspapers from many sources. Troop movements by Kiangsu on the Chekiang border are freely reported, while one dispatch from Nanking claims that the Kiangsu military authorities are already holding up Shanghai-Nanking railway cars at Nanking with a view to using them from transporting troops.

The Chinese press also reports the arrival in Shanghai of the family of General Chen Loh-san, Chekiang leader. They came from Hangchow by train and are now residing at the family home at 19 Yates Road.

Both General Lu Yung-hsiang, Chekiang tuchun, and General Ho Feng-lin, defense commissioner for Shanghai and Sungkiang and subordinate of General Lu, have issued statements denying that they have any intention of striking the first blow.

General Ho Feng-lin, in a telegram to the Federal District Councils of Kiangsu Province which had petitioned him to use his efforts to maintain peace, declared that his policy had always been one of peace, and that throughout the five years during which he has been in charge of this district he has sought to maintain peace and order. He reaffirms his intention to respect the peace agreement signed last year between Kiangsu and Chekiang, of which he was a co-signatory on behalf of Chekiang. General Ho has also sent similar telegrams to the various public bodies in Shanghai, Soochow and Chinkiang.

General Lu Yung-hsiang, in a telegram to prominent citizens here, declares that he will do his best to maintain peace and that he will not strike the first blow.

Trade Act Official Returns To Shanghai

Frank Rhea, Registrar of American Companies under the China Trade Act arrived in Shanghai this week after practically a year spent in Washington with the U. S. Department of Commerce. While in Washington Mr. Rhea devoted considerable time to the matter of interesting members of Congress in the adoption of amendments to the China Trade Act greatly desired by the American commercial communities in Shanghai in order to facilitate the working of the Act in this field. A bill containing the amendments recommended by American commercial organisations in China was introduced in the House of Representatives and received the approval of the Judiciary and Ways and Means Committees of the House, but failed of final passage because of the pressure of other legislation and the confusion resulting from the so-called oil investigations. According to Mr. Rhea the bill is well up on the calendar of the House and should receive early attention when Congress assembles this fall.

Reports appearing in the Shanghai Chinese newspapers stating that Mr. Rhea had been appointed a member of the newly created China Trade Mark Bureau in Peking, were denied most emphatically by Mr. Rhea yesterday.

Silk Testing Shown At Rotary Meeting

"Better silk for China" was the subject of an interesting talk given yesterday by Mr. Charles J. Huber, manager of the United States Testing Company, Inc., before the weekly meeting of the Shanghai Rotary Club.

A complete laboratory of silk reeling, silk-worm rearing and silk weighing was put in actual operation by experts at the meeting. In his interesting address he emphasised the importance of the improvement of sericulture in China.

A large number of ladies were present at the meeting.

Worship Bridge In Prayers For Rain

(China Press Correspondence)

Hwanghsien, Shantung, Aug. 15.—As we read of rains and floods in other parts of China, this part of the Shantung Promontory is burning up with drought. There has been only a very light rain since the 14th of July. Besides this there has been little rainfall all spring, and the winter was very dry.

Fortunately, the rains that came were very timely.

If it does not rain in the next few days, the corn will probably be a failure and the other crops will be seriously affected. The people are greatly perturbed and are worshipping a stone bridge that was built outside the city wall last year. Some of the country people have threatened to tear up the bridge as they say that it is holding down the dragon and keeping back the rains.

SEVEN WIRELESS STATIONS TO BE BUILT ON COAST

German Company Negotiating For Contract With Chinese Navy

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 18.—A contract is being negotiated between the Chinese Naval authorities and the Telefunkan Company for the German Company to supply and erect seven wireless stations along the coast of China. The stations are to have a range of 2,000 miles and will be used for communicating with ships at sea. The wireless station at Pratas Island is not included in this scheme, but was negotiated as a separate contract at an earlier date. It will be remembered that the Hongkong Government expressed a wish for the Pratas Island Station to be erected in order that Hongkong and the mainland should receive timely warning of typhoons and their course.

Meanwhile the contract whereby the Telefunkan Company undertook to replace the old stations, with a range of 3,000 miles, at the Temple of Heaven, Peking, Wuchang and Foochow with modern stations on the Telefunkan new system has not been carried out beyond delivery of the stations at Shanghai, Hankow and Tientsin. It is understood that delivery of these stations and erection at the points named merely awaits payment on the part of the Chinese Government.

Good Weather At Kuling; Outdoor Sports Enjoyed

(Special to The China Press)

Kuling, Aug. 12.—The season at Kuling has been remarkable for good weather. For six weeks there has been scarcely no rain in the day time, there having been only two rainy days. Probably there have never been so many picnics and outings without anybody's feelings or clothes being dampened. Tennis is still the leading sport although baseball fans are much in evidence, there being three games each week. The Presbyterians beat the World the best three out of five and now they are starting in a new series, this time the World drawing first blood.

The annual landrenters meeting has just been held taking up two days to transact all the important business. There were many who urged a central water plant so all spiled private springs could be used for the general good, but after much deliberation the plan was recommitted to be studied till next year. The meeting was held in the new auditorium for the first time. It is just now becoming evident how important this commodious building is since there is a movie or concert almost every night in the season.

There is just now much interest in the finals of the tennis tournament which are being played off. There are some excellent players on the mountain and daily there are many spectators who enjoy the sports.

The boy scouts and the camp fire girls are out this week for several days of camping. The latter are made up mainly of the girls of the Shanghai American School, a dozen of whom are here this summer.

On August 18 and 19 the annual sacred concert will be given. This year the oratorio is Spohr's "Last Judgment." It will be sung by a chorus of over fifty voices in addition to soloists, the conductor being Mr. Curtis.

Peking House Tax Not Recognised By Foreign Diplomats

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 18.—The House tax which it is proposed to impose upon foreigners residing in Peking was discussed at the meeting of the Diplomatic Body this morning. It was decided that the Ministers should send in identic notes to the effect that while they do not formally recognise the tax they propose to leave it to the discretion of their nationals whether or not they make any contribution, by way of a donation, and if so what amount.

SILVER LOAN 1924.

ISSUE OF DEBENTURES FOR Tls. 1,250,000 AT Tls. 97½ PER CENT.

Rate of Interest 6 percent per annum.

Under the authority of Resolution V, passed at the Annual Meeting of Ratepayers on April 16, 1924, the Council hereby invites applications for debentures in the Silver Loan of 1924.

The debentures in this issue will bear interest from the date of purchase at the rate of 6 percent per annum, payable on June 30 and December 31 in each year.

The debentures will be issued at Tls. 97½ percent, and will be redeemed at par under the operation of a Sinking Fund on December 31, 1934, but may be redeemed by the Council in whole or in part on December 31, 1924, or on any subsequent date, subject to the Council giving six calendar months' notice in the Municipal Gazette and the public press of Shanghai.

In the event of any partial redemption of the loan, the numbers of debentures to be redeemed will be decided by drawing.

The scrip will be issued in denominations of Tls. 5,000, Tls. 1,000, Tls. 500 and Tls. 100 to suit the convenience of applicants.

Application forms can be obtained from the Treasurer and Comptroller, Finance Department, Administration Building, Hankow Road, to whom all enquiries should be addressed.

SEVEN WIRELESS STATIONS TO BE BUILT ON COAST

German Company Negotiating For Contract With Chinese Navy

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 18.—A contract is being negotiated between the Chinese Naval authorities and the Telefunkan Company for the German Company to supply and erect seven wireless stations along the coast of China. The stations are to have a range of 2,000 miles and will be used for communicating with ships at sea. The wireless station at Pratas Island is not included in this scheme, but was negotiated as a separate contract at an earlier date. It will be remembered that the Hongkong Government expressed a wish for the Pratas Island Station to be erected in order that Hongkong and the mainland should receive timely warning of typhoons and their course.

Meanwhile the contract whereby the Telefunkan Company undertook to replace the old stations, with a range of 3,000 miles, at the Temple of Heaven, Peking, Wuchang and Foochow with modern stations on the Telefunkan new system has not been carried out beyond delivery of the stations at Shanghai, Hankow and Tientsin. It is understood that delivery of these stations and erection at the points named merely awaits payment on the part of the Chinese Government.

Good Weather At Kuling; Outdoor Sports Enjoyed

(Special to The China Press)

Kuling, Aug. 12.—The season at Kuling has been remarkable for good weather. For six weeks there has been scarcely no rain in the day time, there having been only two rainy days. Probably there have never been so many picnics and outings without anybody's feelings or clothes being dampened. Tennis is still the leading sport although baseball fans are much in evidence, there being three games each week. The Presbyterians beat the World the best three out of five and now they are starting in a new series, this time the World drawing first blood.

The annual landrenters meeting has just been held taking up two days to transact all the important business. There were many who urged a central water plant so all spoiled private springs could be used for the general good, but after much deliberation the plan was recommitted to be studied till next year. The meeting was held in the new anditorium for the first time. It is just now becoming evident how important this commodious building is since there is a movie or concert almost every night in the season.

There is just now much interest in the finals of the tennis tournament which are being played off. There are some excellent players on the mountain and daily there are many spectators who enjoy the sports.

The boy scouts and the camp fire girls are out this week for several days of camping. The latter are made up mainly of the girls of the Shanghai American School, a dozen of whom are here this summer.

On August 18 and 19 the annual sacred concert will be given. This year the oratorio is Spohr's "Last Judgment." It will be sung by a chorus of over fifty voices in addition to soloists, the conductor being Mr. Curtis.

Peking House Tax Not Recognised By Foreign Diplomats

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Aug. 18.—The House tax which it is proposed to impose upon foreigners residing in Peking was discussed at the meeting of the Diplomatic Body this morning. It was decided that the Ministers should send in identic notes to the effect that while they do not formally recognise the tax they propose to leave it to the discretion of their nationals whether or not they make any contribution, by way of a donation, and if so what amount.

Asks $40,000 To Reconstruct Dykes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 16.—Mr. Liu Meng-keng, Governor of the Metropolitan Area, wants $40,000 immediately for reconstruction of the dykes at Huangtupo. His request has been referred to the Ministry of Finance and the National Conservancy Bureau.

Dominions Oppose Plan To Continue Wembley Exhibits

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 21.—Reuter learns that replies have now been received from all the Dominions except Newfoundland with reference to continuance of the British Empire Exhibition in 1925. They unanimously opposed continuation mainly on the ground of the expense of maintaining the staffs and renewing the exhibits etc.

Trade Balance In France Favorable

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, August 20.—Imports for the first seven months of 1924 totalled 33,000,000 tons, of a value of Fcs. 22,973,000,000.

Exports for the same period totalled 16,000,000 tons, of a value of Fcs. 24,296,000,000.

Hongkong Stocks

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor state in their weekly share report under date Hongkong, Aug. 15:

We have had a very active market during the past week with a considerable rise in many stocks, and at the close the market continues strong with buyers prevailing.

The Shanghai market is quiet with very little doing.

The following are the principal alterations since last week:

Hongkong Banks:—Have practically eaten their dividends but close firm with buyers at $1,195 without attracting sellers.

Unions:—Are wanted at quotations.

Hotels.—Are quiet but there is more enquiry principally for forward delivery.

Hongkong Lands:—Are strong with buyers at $113½ and $117 for October Ex. Div.

Humphreys.—Are wanted at $23.

Cements:—Sellers continue to prevail and Combined shares are offering at $25.

Kowloon Wharves:—Have had a rapid rise and close firm with buyers at $218.

Hongkong Docks:—Are also in strong demand and are wanted at $149 cash and $155 for October

Shanghai Docks:—Are firm with buyers at Tls. 92½.

Ropes:—Are steady at quotations.

Hongkong Electrics:—Are very firm with buyers at $404½.

Hongkong Trams:—Are in strong demand and have risen to a buying rate of $43½ cash whilst they have been done at $44 for Settlement.

Peak Trams:—Continue in good demand with few shares coming out.

China Sugars:—Have had a sensational rise, closing firm with buyers at $355 cash and $370 for October.

China Providents: — Show rather more enquiry and could be placed at $15 for Old and $5 for New shares.

China Lights:—Have also been in more demand and have come to business at $22 Combined shares for October.

Dairy Farms:—Are firm with buyers at $26.85 without attracting sellers.

Lane Crawfords:—Continue firm with buyers at $17¾ but no sellers.

Steamboats:—Had a sharp rise and are wanted at $38½ cash and have been done at $40½ for September.

London Quotations of the 14th inst:—Hongkong Banks £138 10/-. Indos Deferred £13.10/-, Shells £4.1.3. All middle prices.

Exchange:—The demand selling rate on London is 2/4⅞ and the T.T. on Shanghai is Tls. 72¾.

Hankow Trade

The British Chamber of Commerce, Hankow, states in its weekly circular of trade statistics under August 13:

Bar silver at 34⅞ ready 34½ forward declined during the week and closed at 33⅞ ready and forward with signs of a reaction. New York-London cross rate commenced the week at 446⅝ and rose steadily, closing at 453½ with a firm tendency. T.T. opened the week at 3s. 4d. dropped to 3s. 3⅝d. on the 8th instant and with a weak market declined to 3s. 3¼, which was the closing rate. 4 M/Credits were done at 3s. 4⅝d., on the 7th instant, and following the T.T. rate closed at 3s. 4⅛d. August-September with firmer forward rates. Chinese market rates: Shanghai Taels 98.15. Local currency 69.225. Native interest 7 percent.

EXPORTS

During the past week the produce markets remained steady. Purchases were reported of wood oil and beans, also of small lots of gallnuts, Chinagrass and old crop tallow. European buyers enquire for beans and sesamum seed but there is very little interest in other produce. American wood oil prices are too low to permit of business.

IMPORTS

Piece Goods:—Market quiet, with very little doing.

Yarn:—Market firm and prices show an upward tendency.

BLACK TEA

During the week there has been a fair amount of activity in teas of the better grades, the stocks of these being now reduced to a very small quantity. Those in demand have been teas with good cup and leaf, so that among the present stocks of medium teas it is getting more difficult to find useful tea.

The large stock of common tea with red stalky leaf continues to increase, but is unable to attract any attention, owing to its extremely unattractive qualities.

The quantity of the second crop would now, it appears, be more likely to reach the figures, originally estimated, of 60,000 H/C, as the estimate of the damage done by the floods appears to have been exaggerated.

Freight Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Co.'s freight market report states:

During the past fortnight our export markets to Europe and America have remained as stagnant as ever but with the recent turn for the better in the political atmosphere in Europe, it is hoped that the autumn will see an improvement set in in the movement of produce from China.

Coastwise:—There is no sign of the floods abating and the strike at Shameen, which at one time was reported settled, has broken out afresh, which all tends to interfere with the coasting trade, consequently the market is very dull and there is nothing of interest to report.

How Well Can You See?

Stand Twenty Feet from this advertisement, pinned to a wall, level with your eyes.

You should be able to read the large black letters at the top with each eye separately.

Now, hold this fourteen inches away from the eyes in a natural reading position. You should read the type in the margin easily with either eye.

These lines in margin should appear equally black in all directions and at any distance with either or both eyes. If some lines appear blacker or of unequal density you have astigmatism—a malformation of the eyeball which can only be corrected by glasses ground to your individual requirements.

These Lenses correct (1) the curve of rotation of the eyes, greatly widening the field of vision. They are theoretically more perfect than flat lenses besides being better looking. No matter what lenses you wear, your prescription can be ground in these

Do your Eyes Tire Easily? Do they water in the wind or sun? Do you "squint" in the sunlight?

There are many, who, with apparently normal vision, suffer with headaches and eye-strain caused by weak eye-muscles and both eyes not focusing together. Such muscular Imbalance can only be corrected by proper glasses.

Many do not need glasses to See with, but only to Relieve the Strain of Seeing—the only safe and sure way is to

This Looks Like Bolshevism At Canton

THE class war at Canton, China's great southern metropolis, apparently has narrowed down to a more or less clean-cut fight between the propertied interests and the radicals without property. On the side of the propertied interests are the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Volunteer Corps and on the other side is a curious combination of militarists, students and labor unions. The situation is very tense and the news of the last few days indicates the possibility of an actual outbreak with street fighting at any time.

The immediate cause of the present crisis was a shipment of arms imported by the Merchants' Volunteer Corps, but which was seized by the militarists upon instructions issued by Dr. Sun Yat-sen. Dr. Sun had previously given authority for the importation of the arms on the part of the Volunteers, but countermanded the order and sent a gunboat to seize the Norwegian ship which brought them in. Since the arms were being imported by the Volunteers for the definite purpose of protecting the lives and properties of the citizens of Canton against the depredations of the militarists the issue is clean-cut. The fact that the labor unions and the students have now joined the militarists against the Chamber of Commerce and the Volunteer Corps, makes the fight resemble the struggles which took place in practically every important city of Russia at the beginning of Bolshevism. Therefore the present struggle at Canton is of the greatest possible significance to the rest of China and to the world at large.

The Merchants' Volunteer Corps was started in Canton in 1921 and has been fostered by the Chamber of Commerce as a means of protection against the militarists under Dr. Sun Yat-sen which have brought chaos to China's great southern port and commercial center. The story of Canton in recent years and months is too familiar to merit retelling here. It has been a sordid tale of squabbling between rival mercenary military units brought into the city from neighboring provinces; a story of extortion in the form of illegal taxes, confiscation of private property and private sale of public property; a story of oppression upon the propertied interests which has made it unsafe for men of means to live in the city; a story of unsecured note issues—in short, a story of general chaos. In brief, the account of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's patriotic movement to bring about the establishment of constitutional government in China has degenerated into the familiar story of Bolshevism and Communism with the propertied interests of Kwangtung Province as the victims.

On August 13 the Chinese Chamber of Commerce at Canton and the Merchants' Volunteer Corps sent a telegram to the Diplomatic Corps in Peking pointing out that the seizure of arms belonging to the Volunteer Corps constituted a serious danger owing to the fact that military interests now in Canton are not favorable to the restoration of peace in China or the unification of the country. The spokesman of the Volunteers "hoped that the Diplomatic Body would not fail to understand the position, for in importing the arms the Volunteers had not violated any international undertakings."

The final result of this first definite test of strength between the Canton merchants and Volunteers and the radical military elements and their associates is yet to be decided. As these lines are being written, Dr. Sun and his helpers have the arms and undoubtedly it is their intention to confiscate them to their own use and to the detriment of the merchants and propertied interests of the province. The Volunteers have gradually been consolidating their position and August 13 was selected as the date for celebrating the final unification and consolidation of the Volunteer movement throughout the province. Apparently this public inauguration was set so as to synchronise with the arrival of the arms shipment and the appointment of Mr. Chan Lim-pak, a prominent merchant and banker, as chief officer of the Volunteer organisation.

For the last several weeks the Volunteers have been asserting their strength in Canton city and recently there have been indications that Dr. Sun Yat-sen and the military commanders of the mercenary troops from Yunnan and elsewhere have been feeling this strength. This was shown in the revocation of orders confiscating public property for sale to private interests and revocation of taxation orders issued by the Sun Government. The militarists evidently saw the writing on the wall, hence Dr. Sun's precipitate action in seizing the arms intended for the Volunteer Corps. The immediate effect has been to force the departure from the city of Mr. Chan Lim-pak, the head of the Volunteers, and the upsetting of the plans for the public inauguration and celebration of the organisation of the Volunteer Corps of Kwangtung Province which was scheduled for August 13. For the present Dr. Sun is on top, but the final effect at Canton and elsewhere in China is still to be seen, for without question this first test of strength between the commercial and propertied interests and the radicals is bound to be sensed by Chinese business men, bankers and gentry throughout the country as well as the overseas Chinese.

Republicanism In Ireland

THOSE who ever anticipated that the Irish question would be settled by grant of that autonomy which has been granted to the two divisions of Ireland, will undoubtedly have been more than a little dismayed by the determined republican move which is now being made. The feeling in the Free State is probably best expressed in the words of Margaret Pearse, mother of the two deceased Irish protagonists of republicanism, who is reported to have said "The Free State will not last, for it is built on a rotten foundation." If compromises may be said to be erected on unsound footings, Mrs. Pearse is undoubtedly right, for the measure of Home Rule which has already been granted was in the nature of a compromise between those who desired a complete divorce from England, and those who were bitterly opposed to any such thing. By many the status of a self-governing dominion was accepted on the principle of half loaf being better than no bread. In fairness to the government of the Free State, it has to be emphasised, as stated by the British Colonial Secretary in the House of Commons, that it has carried out the letter and spirit of the treaty. But this does not tend to minimize the gravity of the fact that agitators both within the Free State and without have commenced working to establish a republic. Indeed people in England have expressed the opinion that if a demand is made for the establishment of such a form of government, it should be conceded. Whatever hope there was that such a suggestion would receive the sympathetic consideration of the British Labor Government is dispelled by the emphatic statement made by Mr. J. H. Thomas.

> "Once for all let it be understood that any such demand would receive from His Majesty's present advisers the same reply, and no other than that which it would, I believe, have received from either of the two previous governments which have been in office since the Treaty was signed. . . . . While the utterances to which I refer attract little attention in this country, they give rise to hopes and fears elsewhere which are not destined to be realised in fact."

"The importance of this utterance rests in the assertion that the Labor Government contemplates no drastic departure from the policies of its two predecessors. It certainly does not confirm the belief that, secretly, the Labor Government favored any such innovation for Ireland, and a warning, so necessary, could hardly have been more explicit. It is only to be expected that the irreconcilable republicans will persevere in their agitation. They are probably doomed to disappointment, for we can conceive of no occurrence likely to arise of such dimensions as would exacerbate Irish feelings sufficiently to secure general support of any such proposal. To make any such demand would not be the "forward policy" it is described by some, and might tend to discount the good results already achieved. For men like President Cosgrave and his ministers realise that not only does the Free State represent the final settlement of the Anglo—Irish dispute, but also that from an Irish point of view it is a most advantageous one.

The Mystery Of Mars

TONIGHT Mars will be at its nearest to the earth. We do not know whether this has any connection with the war talk with which the local atmosphere has latterly been charged, but it is tolerably certain that the observations which will now be made by the world's astronomers may result in a material addition to the sum of the world's scientific knowledge, the effects of which will be profound and far-reaching. For a great many years Mars has not been so close to the earth as it will be tonight, and when to this advantage is added that of the immense progress that has been achieved in the realm of telescopic construction and photographic science, it will readily be seen that the opportunity was never greater to wrest from Mars the secret of many centuries than it is today. Not long ago it was contemplated by scientists to press into their service a disused mine shaft in California in the shape of a gigantic rotating concave bowl which was to be filled with liquid mercury, and this would act as a reflector to catch the rays from Mars and thus bring the world of science within measurable distance of finding an answer to the eternal mystery of the planet. We do not know whether this plan has been or is about to be put into effect, but we do know that no stone will be left unturned to find out, if possible, whether Mars, among other things is inhabited, and whether it is possible to attract its attention to the earth with a view to ultimate communication.

The modern studies of Mars which have aroused so much public interest began with the work of Schiaparelli in 1877. Accepting the term "ocean," used by the older observers, to designate the widely extended darker regions on the planet, and holding that they were really bodies of water, he found that they were connected by comparatively narrow streaks. (Schiaparelli considered them really water until after the Lowell observations). In accordance with the adopted system of nomenclature, he termed these streaks canals, a word of which the proper rendering into English would be channels. But the word was actually translated into both English and French as canal, thus connoting artificiality in the supposed waterways, which were attributed to the inhabitants of the planet. The fact that they were many miles in breadth, and that it was, therefore, absurd to call them canals, did not prevent this term from being so extensively used that it is now scarcely possible to do away with it. A second series of observations was made by Schiaparelli at the opposition of 1879, when the planet was farther away, but was better situated as to altitude above the horizon. He now found a number of additional channels, which were much finer than those he had previously drawn. The great interests attaching to their seemingly artificial character gave an impetus to telescopic study of the planet which has continued to the present time. New canals were added, especially at the Lowell Observatory, until the entire number listed in 1908 amounted to no fewer than 585. The general character of this complex system of lines is described by Lowell as a network covering the whole face of the planet, light and dark regions alike, and connecting at either end with the respective polar caps there. At their junctions are small dark pinheads of spots. The lines vary in size between themselves, but each maintains its own width throughout. But the more difficult of these objects are only seen occasionally and are variable in definiteness. Of two canals equally well situated for seeing, only one may be visible at one time, and only the other at other times. If this variability of aspect among different canals is true as they are seen from the Lowell Observatory, we find it true to a much greater extent when we compare descriptions by different observers. At Flagstaff, the most favorably situated of all the points of observation, they are seen as fine sharp lines, sometimes as well marked as if drawn with a pencil. But other observers see them with varying degrees of breadth and diffuseness.

We would recommend to those possessing an ordinary three-inch telescope to make observations of Mars tonight in view of the unique opportunity afforded by the nearness of that planet to the earth. Mars, in astronomy, is the fourth planet in the order of distance from the sun, and the next outside the earth. To the naked eye it appears as a bright star of a decidedly reddish or lurid tint, which contrasts strongly with the whiteness of Venus and Jupiter. At opposition it is brighter than a first magnitude star, sometimes outshining even Sirius. It is, by virtue of its position, the most favorably situated of all the planets for observation from the earth. The eccentricity of its orbit, 0.0933, is greater than that of any other major planet except Mercury. The result is that at an opposition from near perihelion, Mars is markedly nearer to the earth than at an opposition near aphelion, the one distance being about 35 million miles, the other 63 million. These numbers express only the minimum distances at or near opposition, and not the distance of other times. The time of revolution of Mars is 686.98 days. The mean interval between oppositions is 2 years and 49½ days, but, owing to the eccentricity of the orbit, the actual excess over two years ranges from 36 days to more than 2½ months. Its period of rotation is 24h. 37 min. 22.66s. (R. G. Bakhuyzen). The most striking feature, and one which shows the greatest resemblance to a familiar terrestrial process, is that when either polar region comes into view after being turned nearly a year away from the sun, it is found to be covered with a white cap. This gradually contracts in extent as the sun shines upon it during the remaining half of the Martian year, sometimes nearly disappearing. That this change is due to the precipitation of watery vapor in the form of ice, snow or frost during the winter, and its melting or evaporation when exposed to the sun's rays, is so obvious a conclusion that it has never been seriously questioned. It has, indeed, been suggested that the deposit may be frozen carbonic acid. While it is difficult to pronounce this out of the question, the probabilities seem in favor of the deposit being due to the precipitation of aqueous vapor in a frozen form. Among the more probable conclusions to be drawn from Lowell's observations, the following are of most interest. The darker areas are all seamed by lines and dots darker than themselves, which are permanent in position, so that there can be no bodies of water on the planet. On the other hand, their color, blue-green, is that of vegetation. This fades out, as vegetation would, at certain seasons to faint blue-green, but in some places to a tawny brown. Each hemisphere undergoes these changes in its turn, the changes being opposite in opposite hemispheres. The changes in the dark areas follow some time after the melting of the polar caps. The aspect of these areas suggests old sea bottoms, and when on the terminator appear as depressions, though this may be only apparent and due to the dark color.

The suggestion that there is a possibility of Mars being inhabited, just like the earth, with forms of life naturally will produce a different effect on different people. It fires the imagination of the scientist and thinker while it encourages the sceptic to scoff at the idea that any planet except the one we live in is inhabited. But in the spirit of Victor Hugo, we would say that the dreams of today are the flesh and blood of tomorrow, and one fine day we may be fated perchance to discover that Mars is not only inhabited but that it has probably attained a state of civilisation far more advanced than ours which has enabled it to solve the social problem. The world, in view of the steady and progressive advance of science, has no right to be surprised at anything.

EXCERPTS FROM GREAT WRITERS

By Mathy

THE SUPREME MOMENT

"But Leonardo," says one writing upon the genius of the incomparable da Vinci, "will never work till the happy moment comes—that moment of bien-etre (feeling just fit), which, to imaginative men, is a moment of invention. On this moment he waits; other moments are but a preparation or after-taste of it."

There are two kinds of work to be done in the world, which may be called routine work and creative work.

By routine work we mean the tending of machines, the discharge of office duties, and the maintenance of the ordinary; which includes care of engines, ploughing, housework, answering letters and keeping accounts, tending the sick, digging mines, building bridges, and the like. All these—and the lives of all of us comprise such functions—are to be done whether we feel like it or not. The trombone player in the band must go on, though his heart is lead. The servant must sweep the floors, no matter how the listless Spring has got into her blood. And the doctor must make his calls, the policeman walk his beat, and the elevator-boy run his car, for they are cogs in the social wheel.

By creative work we mean the writing of stories, the composition of music, the painting of pictures, the modelling of statues, the singing of songs, and doings of such quality.

These acts should await the supreme moment. Leonardo used to rush clear across Milan, when he was engaged in painting "The Last Supper" in the little out-of-the-way church of S. M. delle Grazie, just to make three or four strokes with his brush, to add a touch that had occurred to him. That is one reason why the picture, now faded, is yet epochal in art.

One trouble with story magazines is that they are issued regularly. The ideal publication would appear "every little while." One does claim to, but it is a fraud, for it is a regular monthly.

What a blessing if nobody wrote a story unless he had a story to write; if no parson preaches unless the fire burned within him; if nobody made a political speech unless he were as white-hot as Patrick Henry when he gave his "Liberty or death" oration; if nobody played the piano or gave forth a song unless the compelling inspiration were there; if nobody built a house except to realise a beautiful dream, nor painted a picture except to express and fix an entrancing vision.

Creative work is the scarcest in the world. And the most underpaid. And the amount of hard work a man puts upon a thing is no gauge of its value—often quite the contrary—for it is the same shrewd Leonardo who observed, Quante piu un' arte porte seco fatica di corpo, tanto pie e vile. or "The more bodily fatigue goes into a work of art, the viler it is."

Men must work. In the forepart of the Scriptures it is laid down that "in the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," and such labor perhaps will always be the most part of the world's work.

But in the latter part of the Scriptures it is said that "man shall not live by bread alone," and that sustenance other than bread, that diviner food that sustains souls, and the ghost-wine that cheers them, is not produced by sweating labor at all, should not be called work, but is a sort of glorious PLAY.

Art, craftsmanship, inspiration—no one can work at such things; they are essentially play, the joy (and not work, the pain) of self-forthputting.

And one supreme moment is worth a lifetime.

The Hat Formerly Worn by French Postilion Comes Into Fashion

Six months ago the "postillon" was spoken of in Paris as a shape that ran a good chance of filling the need for a small, smart hat when the cloche had outworn its welcome among us. Even before any hats of this description were to be seen in this country we were on the lookout for it—through word from Paris—feeling somehow that it might fill the breach when the time came, as come it must, when the cloche would seem hopelessly commonplace.

And now the "postillon" shape is with us. It is no longer something you have to speculate about. It may be seen in almost any milliner's shop. You may even have been so up to date as to have acquired one.

This high-crowned hat with a slightly rolling brim is spoken of as a hat of Directoire tendency. And so it is in a measure. It is a hat we always associate with the period of the French Revolution and Directorate. But apparently it earned its name "postillion" somewhat after the revolutionary period, when it survived in the usual uniform of the postilion, who rode before great coaches in France and England.

Women adopted this "postillon" hat for riding sometime around 1830, choosing then as they do now to wear riding accessories suggestive of masculine attire.

Some of the most popular "postillon" shapes at the present time show a crown that runs straight upward—if anything slanting inward rather than outward. But there are "postillons" and "postillons." The sketch shows the version of the "postillon" that some of the dressmakers—Lewis among them—seem to prefer. It is of beige felt with a satin ribbon band.

Whether or not it will ever possess the widespread popularity of the cloche it would be hard to foretell. There is very little reason to think that it will. It is far more apt to remain what it is now, a hat chosen only by a minority of well-dressed women.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

WHEN YOU TAKE YOUR BOB AWAY

When you take your bobbed head away for the summer there are certain things you might take with you to make your journey pleasanter.

For one thing, take some sort of bandeau. You will need it for tennis, for golf, for boating, for walking—whenever you do not wear a hat and, either because of a breeze or because of the violence of your exercise, your hair becomes easily disarranged.

There are some fascinating bandeaux for sports wear by the bobhaired. One is made of silver ribbon, part of it over an elastic band that holds it securely at the back. It is gathered and pleated into this narrow section. The front section widens out over the forehead in a most becoming way. That is all there is to it—just silver ribbon. It is the arrangement that counts.

There are useful and becoming bandaux, too, of knitted silk, elastic in themselves, that snap snugly about the hair to keep it from blowing in the eyes. These come in black, in white and in all sorts of bright stripes and plaids.

Then there are sport nets for the bobbed hair. These are made of heavy silk, in different colors, with a wide knitted silk band to fasten them snugly.

If you have bobbed your hair since last summer, remember that you will need a smaller bathing cap than you wore when you had a full complement of long tresses. Your old cap would prove too roomy, and might ship some water to spoil your bob.

But then some of the bobbed-hair girls don't wear bathing caps. They let their hair get wet, and then dry it at their leisure, meanwhile assuring you that the daily wetting doesn't hurt it.

What The Chinese Papers Are Saying

Peking, Aug. 19.—Rumors of an impending war in the Southeast are originated mostly on the government bond exchanges. Those located in Peking are circulating the report that war is inevitable between Kiangsu and Chekiang while those in Shanghai respond with the rumor that the Mukden army is marching into Shanhaikwan. The speculators are affected. The rumor mongers in Peking have made millions during the last few days. At the Cabinet meeting today, the matter of the report of the war scares in the Southeast was brought up, but discussion was dropped when it was pointed out that no official report whatsoever had been received by the Cabinet.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 19.—The salt surplus for July has been released. The amount returned from Shanghai was 991,200 taels while that from Tientsin was $600,000.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 19.—General Feng Yu-hsiang today sent three carloads of disbanded troops from his army to each of the two cities of Pukow and Yencheng.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 19.—It is reported that Mr. Li Shih-hou, former Minister of Finance, has arrived in Tientsin. A number of Parliamentarians recently returned from Shanghai went to Tientsin today to consult him.—Shun Pao.

Pengpu, Aug. 19.—Six airmen attacked to the Kiangsu Army arrived here today to secure an aerodrome for the landing of Peking planes. They have selected the open space in front of the Military Hospital as the Pengpu Military Aerodrome.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 19.—The Cabinet today accepted the resignation of Mr. Cheng Lu as China's delegate to the League of Nations and appointed Mr. Tai Cheng-lin as his successor.—Sin Wan Pao.

Foochow, August 19.—The arrest of General Wang Hsien-cheng was caused by an order from Marshal Wu Pei-fu of Loyang. His forces, the third division, will be reorganised into a brigade to be placed under the command of Li Feng-hsiang. It is expected that Wang will be released and be given a Dutch promotion in the Military Council in Peking.—Eastern Times.

Peking, August 19.—Ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung has authorised a man named Chi to secure a big loan for the imperial household offering the curios of his palaces as security for the redemption.—Eastern Times.

Hongkong, Aug. 19.—Cantonese type-setters have addressed an ultimatum to the newspapers, demanding an increase of 30 percent of their wages. The ultimatum expires in three days. The papers, at a meeting, decided to ignore the demand.—Shun Pao.

Peking, Aug. 19.—The British Ambassador to Tokio called on Wellington Koo today. He will be given audience by Tsao Kun on Thursday. The British Minister to Peking returned from Peitaho today.—Sin Wan Pao.

Tientsin, Aug. 19.—Funeral services for the five police constables who lost their lives while reconstructing the King Tan Bridge during the recent flood took place today. A large number of prominent officials attended the ceremony.—Eastern Times.

Peking, August 19.—The Peking agent of Tuchun Chi Hsieh-yuan of Nanking has denied the report that Chi has secured a loan for the conservancy of the Huai River.—Republican Daily News.

Peking, August 19.—According to a report from Chu Chao-hsin Chinese Charge D'Affaires at London, the International Anti-Opium Convention has closed its sessions. A number of experts will be sent by the convention to China to investigate the drug conditions.—Republican Daily News.

Peking, August 19.—The Kiangsu Parliamentarians have jointly telegraphed to Chi Hsieh-yuan, urging him to make an open declaration on his attitude towards Chekiang vis-a-vis the peace pact signed between him and General Lu Yung-hsiang last year.—Republican Daily News.

Peking, August 19.—The estimates made by the Ministry of Finance show that $5,000,000 should be secured on the surcharges on the customs tax; $1,000,000, on the Native customs for one year; and $2,000,000 on the surtax of the various communication services. Wang Keh-ming has obtained the consent of Kao Ling-wei, director of the Flood Relief, to offer them as security for a loan of $4,000,000 from the Chinese bankers.—Shanghai Tribune.

Peking, August 19.—The Ministry of Education has issued a circular order, restricting the sending of more Chinese students to the United States on the ground that the large number of students who flock into America would tend to denationalise an important section of Chinese youth, who form the root of the nation.—Shanghai Tribune.

Tientsin, August 19.—The Japanese garrison in Tientsin will be transferred back to Japan and a new batch of soldiers is expected to arrive here shortly.—Shanghai Tribune.

Half Million Loss By Chinese Cotton Mfg. Co. Last Year

The fourth annual general meeting of the Shanghai Cotton Manufacturing Co., Ltd., was held at the head office of the Company, No. 49 Szechuen Road, yesterday afternoon. Mr. M. Nodari, Chairman of the Board of Directors, presided, and Messrs. J. Prentice, W. J. N. Dyer, K. Otani, and K. Kuroda, Directors, were in attendance. There was a considerable number of shareholders present, and 68,446 shares represented, either directly or by proxy.

Owing to various circumstances, the Company has shown a serious loss for the year. The report and accounts for the year ended June 30, 1924, show a debit of Tls. 507,713.45.

Chairman Nodaira, in presenting the Directors' report and statement, spoke as follows:

A DISASTROUS YEAR

The result of the year under review has been disastrous, in fact the worst on record since the establishment of the Company. My remarks at last year's meeting have unfortunately come true, and we are now facing a deficit of over half a million, which amount is equivalent to one-half of the amount recently called for on new issue of shares. Had it not been for the fairly good results achieved by our weaving department, the loss sustained would have been greater. There were no improvements in the conditions of trade to which I referred at last year's meeting, the high cost of raw cotton and low price of manufactured goods being the result of political and economical disturbances so hopelessly existing all over the country. The gloomy outlook is still hanging over us and there are no signs of improvement. In fact, the deplorable state of affairs in this country seems to be going from bad to worse. The speculative element is not at all deminishing and its menace is severely felt, particularly in our trade.

The immediate future of cotton business largely depends upon the result of the new crops. Should the present high cost of raw material remain unchanged, it is inevitable that many disastrous effects would ensue, such as the closing down of mill factories and increased unemployment.

Compulsory curtailment of the mills' working was discussed from time to time by various mill owners, but unfortunately no agreement was reached. However, I am informed that the majority of mills are now shortening their working capacity of their own accord.

In spite of this adverse state of affairs, both buildings and machinery, etc., were kept in first class order, we having spent over Taels 120,000 on same (charged to the Working Account). Some alterations were made to improve atmospheric conditions inside the mills, resulting in more hygienic working conditions and higher efficiency on the part of the workers.

The question of child labor has recently attracted public comment, and I am glad to state that our mills have always been very careful in this respect, even to the displeasure of some of the workers, and the condition of our mills is quite above the standard, no children under 12 years of age being enrolled. With regard to working hours, etc., they are well within the limit which appeared in the recommendations of the Municipal Commission.

As to the depreciation on your assets, although it has been our fixed policy to write off as much as possible, the unprecedented result of the year makes it unjustifiable to transfer the amount of depreciation either to Reserve Fund or to new account, knowing that the present book values are quite below the actual ones. I earnestly hope that a prosperous year will soon come round again and that we may be able to follow our past policy in writing off generously.

Every effort was given to minimise our production cost and most diligent supervision was given over expenses. The staff and workers have been reduced in numbers.

Now turning to the question of finance, to our great regret constant insufficiency of funds has placed the management under great difficulty, and sacrifices have had to be made on several occasions in disposing of our stocks.

Although your Directors and Agents have done and will do the utmost in their power in obtaining financial accommodation elsewhere on reasonable terms, I am afraid, that we might find ourselves compelled to seek means other than loans.

Certain shareholders have suggested us that in floating debentures for the purpose of redemption of the loans, it would save the Company from large outlay of interest, to which your Directors are also giving careful consideration.

DISCUSS AND RESOLUTIONS

The Chairman, concluding his speech, invited questions with regard to the report and accounts. Mr. H. Robertson, taking the floor, criticised the Directors severely for their handling of the work during the past year, and said the serious loss which the shareholders were suffering was due to the Directors' mishandling of things rather than to outside circumstances, and that what the business needed was organisation to cut out the present deficit.

The Chairman, responding, said that everything possible was being done and would be done to economise in the mills, but the circumstances were extremely difficult at present. After some discussion, the Chairman proposed that the report, balance sheet, general inventory of assets, and profit and loss account for the fourth financial year ended June 30, 1924, be adopted and passed. Mr. John Prentice, Director, seconded the motion.

Mr. Robertson, rising, moved an amendment that the report and accounts be turned back to the Directors in order for them to produce an acceptable one. After further discussion, a vote was taken on the motion to adopt, which was passed with two dissenting votes.

The second resolution, that the Directors' resolution in dealing with the balance at debit of the profit and loss account be accepted and passed, was proposed by Chairman Nodaira and seconded by Mr. John Prentice. It was passed.

The third resolution was that the number of directors be increased from six to seven, and that Mr. Kenzo Gonno be elected a Director of the Company. This was proposed by the Chairman and seconded by Mr. Prentice. Mr. Robertson spoke against the motion, which was adopted.

Resolution 4 was that Messrs. Edward S. Wilkinson and Toshitaro Takahashi be elected auditors of the Company in place of those retiring. It was moved by Mr. H. Koy, seconded by Mr. T. Kondo, and passed.

Resolution 5 provided for the payment of a gratuity to the staff at the discretion of the Board of Directors. This was moved by Mr. Nodaira. Mr. Robertson seconded the motion, and took the floor to state that the employees were certainly not to blame for the losses to the shareholders. He suggested that the Directors give up their fees, which they had not earned, to pay the bonus to the employees.

The motion to pay a gratuity to the staff was passed unanimously, and the meeting adjourned.
